Sutorina je krajnji jugoistočni teritorij Bosne i Hercegovine, koji je stoljećima, još od osnutka bosanske države bio u njenom sastavu. Svoj bosanski teritorijalni status istog imena održan je tokom opstojnosti Bosne i Hercegovine, još od srednjeg vijeka i spominje se u okviru Župe Dračevice 1377. god. kada je ista bila u granicama srednjevjekovne Bosanske države.

Svoj bosanski teritorijalni status zadržava i Berlinskim kongresom 1878. god. kada su utvrđene granice Bosne i Hercegovine, koje su priznate novijom historijom, posebno tokom definisanja republika unutar bivše jugoslovenske zajednice. Voluntarizmom bosansko-hercegovačkih lidera tokom komunističkog režima Sutorina je ustupljena susjednoj Crnoj Gori, bez republičkih i saveznih skupštinskih ovjera. Time je Sutorina uzurpirani teritorij Bosne i Hercegovine i kao takav ne bi smio biti ratifikovan predstojećim međudržavnim razgraničenjem Bosne i Hercegovine i susjedne Republike Crne Gore.

territorial status of the same name is held during the existence of Bosnia and Herzegovina, since the Middle Ages and it is mentioned as a part of the Parish Dračevica in 1377., territory of the medieval Bosnian state.

Sutorina maintain its status as a Bosnian territory after the Congress of Berlin held in 1878. This Congress established the borders of Bosnia and Herzegovina, which are recognized by recent history, particularly during the definition of a republic within the former Yugoslav community. With voluntarism of Bosnia and Herzegovina's leaders, during the communist regime, Sutorina was ceded to neighboring Montenegro, excluding central government and the federal parliamentary endorsement. With these decisions Sutorina exists as usurped territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina and due to this facts it should not be ratified by upcoming interstate delimitation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the neighboring Republic of Montenegro.
